

Topics

A.N. Wilson Abortion
AC Grayling Agnosticism
Alan Shlemon
Albert Mohler
Alex McFarland
Alexander Vilenkin
Ali Ataie
Alistair Noble
Alistair McGrath
Alvin Plantinga
Amazon Kindle
Amy Orr-Ewing
Andrew Copson
Andrew Fellows
Andy Bannister
Angels and Demons
Angus Menuge
Anselm
Anthony Horvath
anthropic principle Antony Flew apologetics Apologetics
Interviews
Apologetics Toolkit apps archaeology argument from reason Arif Ahmed articles astronomy Atheism audio audiobooks
Augustine Auschwitz author page
B.B. Warfield
Baha'i
Bart Ehrman
Bayesian probability belief
Ben Stein
Ben Witherington

Home

About

Interviews

Reviews

Archive

Contact

Support

Wednesday, January 04, 2012

10 Pitfalls of the Foolish Apologist

A Christian ambassador desires to be tactful, persuasive, sensitive, and thoughtful. Being a good apologist and being able to give good reasons for the truth of the Christian view takes prayer, patience, study, and persistence. For those who have made it their goal to become good defenders of the faith, there are certain positive disciplines and character traits that one would do well to develop. These help you become a wise apologist.

But on the other hand, there are certain pitfalls that can appear that, when left unchecked, can become character traits and make you a foolish apologist. Although there are surely more, here are Ten Pitfalls of the Foolish Apologist.

1. The foolish apologist speaks before listening. Proverbs 18:13 says, "He who answers before listening - that is his folly and his shame." Not only does he communicate to others that he couldn't care less about what they have to say, but he also becomes unable to give a well informed answer. The wise apologist is patient, seeks to understand, and avoids monologue.
2. The foolish apologist overstates his argument. The foolish apologist doesn't have "good reasons." Instead, he can prove it. He can show something beyond the shadow of a doubt. His arguments are presented with all confidence -- and of course he can't be wrong. Even when using good arguments, he exaggerates what they actually show. No modesty here, and people balk. The wise apologist argues confidently, yet with modesty.
3. The foolish apologist wants to win every point. When the conversation gets complex, he needs to make sure to correct every single error he sees with another person's view. Never mind that his conversation partner is getting offended by his "attention to detail." This apologist is the fallacy police, the fact-checker, and grammarian all-in-one. If he makes an error, back-pedaling is in order, with little or no admission of wrong. The wise apologist can discern what really matters in a conversation.
4. The foolish apologist chases red herrings. If the topic is the resurrection, just bring up evolution. The foolish apologist will happily hop down any bunny trail that appears. The conversation goes in all directions. He can't make any progress in an argument because he can't spot red herrings, distractions, and non-issues. In fact, he may often enjoy these deviations from focused dialogue, because he's proud of his expertise in his own pet subject areas. The wise apologist knows how to stick to one point.
5. The foolish apologist is proud of himself. He likes the fact that he knows terms that make the "novices" around him cock their heads. He secretly commends himself for reading more books in a month than most people do in a year. He enjoys the sound of his own voice, and thinks he does a pretty good job in an internet forum.

Must-Visit Pages

Apologetics Reading Plan for Beginners
The Ultimate Apologetics MP3 Audio Page
Recommended Apologetics Book Directory
Top 16 Apologetics Podcasts
100 Christian Apologists
How to Get Apologetics in Your Church
Christian Apologetics Blog Directory
Apologetics Group Directory
Basic Logic Primer
Audio Debates

Support Apologetics315 when shopping at amazon.com
Use this link.

In the UK? Use this link.
In Canada? Use this link.

Follow by Email

Followers

Join this site

with Google Friend Connect

Members (1119) More >

Already a member? Sign in

Twitter Feed

Apologetics 315
Apologetics315

Apologetics315 God & Arguments from Morality goo.gl/fb/2Djdj #existenceofgod #chadgross #apologetics #morality 13 hours ago · reply · retweet · favorite

Apologetics315 Terminology Tuesday: Middle Knowledge goo.gl/fb/2s1lP #apologetics #terminology

- Bertrand Russell
- Bias
- Bible
- Big Bang
- Bill Maher
- Biola
- Biology
- Blaise Pascal
- blog
- Bob Passantino
- Bobby Conway
- Bobby Gilpin
- Bonus Links
- Book
- Book Directory
- book recommendations
- Book Reviews
- books
- Bradley Monton
- Brett Kunkle
- Brian Auten
- Brian Godawa
- Bruce Little
- Bruce Metzger
- Buddhism
- C.S. Lewis
- calendar
- canon
- Casey Luskin
- Catholicism
- Chad Gross
- Chad Meister
- Chad Williams
- Charles Darwin
- Charles Hodge
- Charles Malik
- Charles Spurgeon
- Charlie Campbell
- Chris Shannon
- Chris Wright
- Christ Myth
- christianity
- Christmas
- Christopher Hitchens
- church
- church apologetics
- Church History
- Clay Jones
- Clement of Alexandria
- Clifford Williams
- comment policy
- communication

- Apologetics is his tool to show the world he can flex his intellectual muscle. He's received his reward. The wise apologist humbles himself before God, and looks upon himself with sober judgment.
6. The foolish apologist seeks popularity. He enjoys the accolades of others, speaking to lots of people, being a big name. Name-dropping becomes a normal tool to show others just how connected he is to what's happening in the scene. He doesn't choose the lowly place. The wise apologist blooms where he is planted.
7. The foolish apologist neglects spiritual disciplines. He finds reading philosophy more interesting than reading the Bible, so he neglects the Bible. Prayer is seldom and rushed. In fact, prayer, meditation, Bible study, worship and fellowship take the back seat to study. The foolish apologist deceives himself that he is being spiritual, all the while drifting away. The wise apologist sits at the feet of Jesus.
8. The foolish apologist has not love. He can speak in the tongues of philosophers and of theologians, but he has not love - he is only a resounding gong or a clanging cymbal. He has the gift of intellect and can fathom all mysteries and all knowledge; his arguments can move mountains, but he has not love - he is nothing. He gives all his time and energy to study, and surrenders his finances to university degrees, but has not love - and has gained nothing. The wise apologist is motivated by love for God and love for others.
9. The foolish apologist isolates himself from others. He doesn't need their input. He doesn't appreciate correction. He has his own plans, his own agenda, and own personal ministry. He refuses to let iron sharpen iron. When he falls, he has no one to help him up. He's accountable to himself only. The wise apologist surrounds himself with godly counsel and fellow laborers.
10. The foolish apologist doesn't do apologetics. He becomes an apologetics junkie; a consumer instead of an enlisted soldier. He does more talking about defending the faith than actually defending the faith. Debates are a spectator sport. He forgets that souls are in the balance and doesn't even think of preaching the Gospel. The wise apologist wants to win others to Christ more than anything - and he uses apologetics as a tool to assist in this task.

Have you encountered any of these pitfalls in your own life? This list may serve as a handy reminder or even serve as a list of prayer points for your own development as a better ambassador for Christ.

**The pronoun "he" is used only for consistency.*

Posted by Brian Auten at 7:30 AM +7 Recommend this on Google
Topics: apologetics, Apologists Toolkit

38 comments:

-

Stephen Bedard said...

Awesome stuff! You hit the nail on the head with this.

Wednesday, January 4, 2012 at 8:51:00 AM GMT
-

Rudolph Boshoff said...

Excellent! Loved the last statement under point 10 "He becomes an apologetics junkie; a consumer instead of an enlisted soldier.."

yesterday · reply · retweet · favorite

Apologetics315 Ten Basic Facts about the NT Canon that Every Christian Should Memorize: #1 j.mp/WblXuz
yesterday · reply · retweet · favorite

Apologetics315 Just downloaded: "In the Beginning... We Misunderstood" j.mp/10iHdND
yesterday · reply · retweet · favorite

 Join the conversation

About

Brian Auten is director of Reasonable Faith Belfast and founder of Apologetics 315, a daily online resource helping to equip the next generation of Christian apologists. More...

This Week's Feature

Defending the Faith: Apologetics in Women's Ministry by Mary Jo Sharp

- Our Top 15 Apologetics Books
- Reasonable Faith
  - Mere Christianity
  - Pensées
  - Philosophical Foundations for a Christian Worldview
  - Tactics: A Game Plan for Discussing Your Christian Convictions
  - The Case for the Resurrection of Jesus
  - Can We Trust the Gospels?
  - The Case for the Real Jesus
  - The Resurrection of the Son of God
  - Testing Christianity's Truth Claims
  - Scaling the Secular City
  - Christian Apologetics \(Geisler\)
  - Francis Schaeffer Trilogy
  - 20 Compelling Evidences that God Exists
  - Faith Has Its Reasons